AB 793 - California's Recycling More Plastic

West Valley Collection & Recycling would like to shed light on the recent law approved by Governor Gavin Newsom, requiring post-consumer resin in drink bottles.

This legislation mandates manufacturers include recycled resin when mass producing plastic beverage bottles. By 2030 manufacturers must meet a minimum content standard deadline, ultimately achieving a 50% recycled content. This new legislation could increase the value of the market for plastic, in turn helping the struggling recycling industry.

Don't Let the Rain Wash Pollution Down Our Drains!

With the rainy season upon us, our Golden State may soon receive some much-needed rain—rain that may also increase stormwater pollution in our local waterways. When it rains, stormwater runs over our yards, driveways and streets, and carries pollutants such as litter, auto fluids, pesticides and pet waste directly into storm drains that flow untreated into creeks and the San Francisco Bay. In the West Valley, cigarette butts, food wrappers, and plastic litter are the most common contaminants found in creeks and shorelines, all of which are harmful to plant and animal life. Here's what you can do to help prevent stormwater pollution now and for future generations:

- Trash the trash. Waste belongs in the garbage, not on our streets.
- Scoop the poop! Pick up your pet's waste.
- Maintain your vehicle. Vehicles can leak oil and other fluids onto driveways and streets.
- Recycle your motor oil. West Valley Collection and Recycling's customers can use curbside pickup! Call (408) 283-9250 to get started for free.
- Report stormwater pollution. Call (408) 354-5385 or report online at <http://cleancreeks.org/>
